This is a compendium of faculty fellowship grant opportunities with information and directions to websites to help you identify potential fellowship opportunities to fund sabbaticals, travel, research as well as other expenses in all disciplines, from the arts through the sciences. You are encouraged to visit this site regularly as it will be periodically updated.

Council for International Exchange of Scholars Traditional Fulbright Scholar Program

The traditional Fulbright Scholar Program sends U.S. faculty and professionals abroad to lecture and conduct research in a wide variety of academic fields. Fellowship Programs provides opportunities to faculty of institutions of higher education to engage in research abroad in modern foreign languages and area studies.

William T. Grant Foundation - William T. Grant Distinguished Fellows Program

The Foundation has announced a pilot test of a fellowship program for mid-career influential researchers, policymakers, and practitioners. The goal of the Distinguished Fellows Program is to increase the supply of, demand for, and use of high-quality research in the service of improved youth outcomes.

William T. Grant Distinguished Fellows Program (to Strengthen Connections between Research, Policy, and Practice)

Educational Testing Service - ETS Visiting Scholars Program

Each summer, visiting scholars from underrepresented groups come to ETS to examine fairness and other issues of test design and development while learning to write and review test questions and related materials for a variety of testing programs. They also may work on educational measurement and policy issues related to equity.

ETS Visiting Scholars Program

Brown University - John Carter Brown Library Research Fellowships in History and the Humanities

Sponsorship of research at the JCB Library is reserved exclusively for scholars whose work is centered on the colonial history of the Americas, including all aspects of the European, African, and Native American involvement.

Smithsonian Institution - In-Residence Fellowships at the Museums and Research Institutes

The Smithsonian Institution offers fellowships for research and study. Applicants to the Smithsonian Institution Fellowship Program must propose to conduct research in a discipline pursued at the Smithsonian and must submit a specific and detailed research proposal indicating why the Smithsonian is an appropriate place to carry out the study.

http://www.si.edu/ofg/infotoapply.htm

Smithsonian Institution/Latino Studies Fellowship

This program offers awards to US Latino senior scholars to pursue research related to Latino history, art and culture using Smithsonian resources.

http://www.si.edu/ofg/Applications/LSFELL/LSFELLapp.

New York State Archives - Research Grants

A program of the State Education Department, with its main facility located in the Cultural Education Center in Albany. It cares for and provides access to more than 130 million documents that tell the story of New York from the seventeenth century to the present.

Chemical Heritage Foundation - Long Term Fellowships (Chemistry Historical Research)

The (CHF) accepts applications for long-term Fellowships.

- Gordon Cain Fellowship in Technology, Policy, and Entrepreneurship, open to Ph.D. scholars who plan to conduct historical research on the development of the chemical industries.
- John C. Haas Fellowship, open to Ph.D. scholars whose projects will enhance public understanding of the chemical industries in relation to environmental, societal, health, and safety issues.
- Charles C. Price Fellowship in Polymer History, open to Ph.D. scholars pursuing research on the history of the chemical sciences and technologies; preference given to applicants with projects in the history of polymers

http://www.chemheritage.org/research/research-nav1.html

National Security Science and Engineering Faculty Fellowships (NSSEFF) Program.

The NSSEFF program provides extensive, long-term financial support to distinguished university faculty and staff scientists and engineers to conduct unclassified, basic research on topics of interest to DoD. Accredited, U.S. doctoral degree-granting academic institutions may nominate distinguished faculty and staff scientists and engineers to receive a NSSEFF award. Fellows will receive up to $4,250,000 in long-term financial support (up to $850,000 per year for up to 5 consecutive years) to conduct unclassified research on topics of interest to DoD. Fellows are expected to produce quantifiable research results over the five-year period of the grant.

http://www.grants.gov  (Search for AFOSR-BAA-2009-4)
National Center for Supercomputing Applications/Summer Faculty Fellowships

The Center (NCSA) at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign (UIUC) has long been a leader in the development and deployment of new computing and software technologies for the scientific and engineering community. NCSA offers summer fellowships for faculty interested in contributing to the creation of a national cyberinfrastructure for science and engineering.

Cyberenvironments
NCSA is creating cyberenvironments that will simplify the integration of distributed computing and data resources into scientific and engineering research. Available to faculty who specialize in scientific and engineering applications, graphical user interfaces and portals, workflow and collaboration software, and data analysis and visualization tools.

Cyber-resources
NCSA provides high-end computing resources needed by the scientific and engineering communities. Available for summers with faculty who are researching ways to make these resources better suit the communities they serve and to improve the computing infrastructure that they operate in.

Innovative Systems
Petascale computing is now a realizable goal that will impact all scientific and engineering research, but the best pathway to petascale computing is unclear. Come and explore those possibilities with us.

Cyberenvironments in the Classroom
Few of the advantages of a national cyberinfrastructure will be realized without scientists and engineers who understand the new capabilities that it provides. NCSA is interested in collaborating with faculty to bring cyberenvironments into the classroom.

Questions should be directed to ncsasff@ncsa.illinois.edu.

Newhouse Faculty Fellowships/Wellesley College

Fellowships are open to both junior and senior faculty members at other institutions. It is expected that external faculty fellows will combine their Newhouse Center stipends with support from other granting agencies or their home institutions. Resident fellows will devote themselves primarily to their own research, but will also participate actively in the intellectual life of the institution.

www.wellesley.edu/NCH

University of Connecticut Humanities Institute

UCHI offers up to eight residential fellowships each academic year. Up to six of these are allocated to junior (tenure-track) and senior faculty at the University, and up to two are awarded to visiting scholars. Faculty Residential Fellowships are opportunities for individuals to pursue advanced work in the humanities. Applicants may be faculty or staff members of colleges or universities, or scholars and independent writers.

External Fellows
External fellows receive a stipend, faculty library privileges, and assistance in locating housing.

www.humanities.uconn.edu

Boeing Welliver Faculty Fellowship Program

The approach is to expose a small number of competitively selected professors from U.S. and international universities to key elements and the business realities of industry by enabling them to “look over the shoulder” of working professionals at several levels of the technical, business, and management career paths.

For more information, download the informational flyer about the Boeing Welliver Faculty Fellowship Program.

Associateship Programs at US Environmental Protection Agency Associateship Faculty Fellowship Program (EPA/FFP)

This program is administered by the National Research Council, which provides the oversight and administrative structure for the selection and appointment of applicants. The laboratory facilities and research support are provided by the host EPA research facility where the Faculty awardees will be in full-time residence for the duration of the award.

During the research duration, the faculty, under the mentorship of EPA researchers, will conduct research at EPA research facilities for a continuous period of eight to fourteen weeks during the interval of March 1 to December 31. AFFP participants may choose to perform their research at the EPA facilities.

This website contains abstracts, or opportunities for research that describe areas of research in which Associateship Faculty Fellowships may be awarded at EPA, which includes the following laboratories:

- National Exposure Research Laboratory
- National Health and Environmental Effects Research Laboratory
- National Center for Computational Toxicology
German Historical Institute/Fellowship in Economic and Social History

The Institute, in Washington, DC, accepts applications for a six-month fellowship in American or European Economic and Social History, with the possibility of extending it to one year, depending on the availability of funding.

http://www.ghi-dc.org/index.php

American Institute of Indian Studies/Senior Long-Term Research Fellowships

Fellowships are awarded to established academic specialists in Indian studies who possess the Ph.D. or equivalent. Non-U.S. citizens are welcome to apply if they are teaching full time at a U.S. college or university. AIIS offers these fellowships to enable established scholars in all disciplines who specialize in Indian studies to pursue further research in India. The following disciplines are eligible: anthropology, archaeology, architecture, art, behavioral sciences, communications, cultural studies, economics, education, environmental studies, ethnomusicology, film or photography, geography, history of art or history of architecture, history of science, history, linguistics, literature, medicine, natural sciences, performing arts, philosophy, political science, public health, religious studies, sociology, theater or dance, and urban planning.

http://www.indiastudies.org/fellow.htm

American Institute of Indian Studies/Senior Scholarly/Professional Development Fellowships

Applications will be accepted from established scholars who have not previously specialized in Indian studies and from established professionals who have not previously worked or studied in India. Non-U.S. citizens are welcome to apply if they are full-time faculty at a college or university in the United States. The following disciplines are eligible: anthropology, archaeology, architecture, art, behavioral sciences, communications, cultural studies, economics, education, environmental studies, ethnomusicology, film or photography, geography, history of art or history of architecture, history of science, history, linguistics, literature, medicine, natural sciences, performing arts, philosophy, political science, public health, religious studies, sociology, theater or dance, and urban planning. http://www.indiastudies.org/fellow.htm

American Institute of Indian Studies/Senior Short-Term Research Fellowships

These are awarded to established academic specialists in Indian studies. Non-U.S. citizens are welcome to apply if they are teaching full time at a U.S. college or university. AIIS offers these fellowships to enable established scholars in all disciplines who specialize in Indian studies to pursue further research in India. The following disciplines are eligible:
anthropology, archaeology, architecture, art, behavioral sciences, communications, cultural studies, economics, education, environmental studies, ethnomusicology, film or photography, geography, history of art or history of architecture, history of science, history, linguistics, literature, medicine, natural sciences, performing arts, philosophy, political science, public health, religious studies, sociology, theater or dance, and urban planning. Pursuant to Indian government requirements, each research fellow is formally affiliated with an Indian university during the course of work in India.

http://www.indiastudies.org/fellow.htm

Library of Congress John W. Kluge Center/Kluge Fellowship

Scholars who have received a terminal advanced degree within the past seven years in the humanities or social sciences are eligible. The Center seeks to bring a group of the world’s best senior thinkers - the Kluge Scholars - into residence, to stimulate, energize, and distill wisdom from the rich resources of the Library of Congress and to interact naturally over a period of time with political Washington. Fellowships are tenable for periods from six to eleven months.

http://www.loc.gov/loc/kluge/fellowships/kluge.html

East-West Center/Visiting Fellowships

The fellowship program enables scholars to undertake research and publication during the academic year in collaboration with EWC staff on an independent research project related to one of the four research program study areas: 1. Politics, governance and security; 2. Economics; 3. Population and health; 4. Environmental change, vulnerability, and governance. Alternatively, scholars may choose to undertake research and publication in one of the following research themes: 1. An interdisciplinary framework for emerging infectious disease risk assessment; 2. Sustainable energy strategy in China and Sino-U.S. cooperation on energy and climate control; 3. Assessing risk from vegetation fires; 4. Climate change mitigation and adaptation in the Asia-Pacific region; 5. China’s capitalist transition; 6. Deepening democracy in south Asia-issues and trends; 7. Understanding the spatial dimension of Asian demography; 8. Very low fertility in east Asia.

http://www.eastwestcenter.org/?id=488

Gerda Henkel Stiftung /Gerda Henkel Foundation Research Fellowships

Research scholarships can be applied for directly by Ph.D. holders for larger-scale research work or in connection with a research project. The foundation’s funding activities concentrate basically on German and foreign academia in the fields of historical humanities. Research projects in the following fields are supported in particular: History; Prehistory and early history; Archaeology; Art history; History of Islam; Legal history.

http://www.gerda-henkel-stiftung.de/foerderung-allgemein.php

New York Public Library/Center for the Humanities Center for Scholars and Writers Fellowships

Fellowships are open to scholars engaged in the humanities and creative writers of demonstrated achievement, regardless of nationality, whose proposed subjects will benefit directly from access to the collections of the library’s Center for the Humanities. The center provides opportunities for fellows to explore the rich and diverse collections of the New York Public Library’s Center for the Humanities. It will also serve as a forum for the exchange of ideas among the fellows, invited guests, the wider academic and cultural communities, and the interested public.

http://www.nypl.org/research/chss/scholars/fellowship.html

Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences/Academy Film Scholars Program

Applicants must be established scholars, writers, historians or researchers possessing either a significant record of achievement, or exceptional promise and demonstrated accomplishments in their field. Applicants must have written and published at least one book or a comparable collection of articles or monographs. Each applicant must propose a new work, encompassing some aspect of theatrical motion picture art, science, commerce, history or theory. Works solely exploring television, video, or other media arts are not eligible. Proposed projects may be books, multimedia presentations, curatorial projects, DVD-ROMs or Internet sites. Projects cannot be film, television or video productions. The program was created to stimulate and support the creation of innovative and significant works of film scholarship about aesthetic, cultural, educational, historical, theoretical, or scientific aspects of theatrical motion pictures.

American Council of Learned Societies

ACLS Fellowships, including ACLS/SSRC/NEH International and Area Studies Fellowships and ACLS/New York Public Library Fellowships

The applicant must have a Ph.D. degree conferred at least two years before the application deadline. There must be a lapse of at least two years since the last supported research leave. Research applications are invited in all disciplines of the humanities and the humanities-related social sciences. Scholars devote 6 to 12 continuous months to full-time research and writing.

American Council of Learned Societies

Charles A. Ryskamp Research Fellowships

Applicants must be employed in tenure-track positions, remaining so for the duration of the fellowship. These fellowships support advanced assistant professors and untenured associate professors in the humanities and related social sciences whose scholarly contributions have advanced their fields and who have well-designed and carefully developed plans for new research. Proposals in interdisciplinary and cross-disciplinary studies are welcome, as are proposals focused on any geographic region or on any cultural or linguistic group.

American Council of Learned Societies

Digital Innovation Fellowships

This program is open to scholars in all fields of the humanities and humanistic social sciences. These Fellowships are intended to support an academic year dedicated to work on a major scholarly project that takes a digital form. Projects may involve development of new digital tools that further research (digital archives or innovative databases); research that depends on or is greatly enhanced by such tools; the representation of research that depends on or is greatly enhanced by the use of such tools; or some combination of these features.

American Council of Learned Societies
Frederick Burkhardt Residential Fellowships for Recently Tenured Scholars

The fellowship program is open to recently tenured humanists - scholars who will have begun their first tenured contracts by the application deadline but began their first tenured contracts no earlier than the fall 2005 semester or quarter. An applicant must be employed in a tenured position at a degree-granting academic institution in the United States, remaining so for the duration of the fellowship. These fellowships support long-term, unusually ambitious projects in the humanities and related social sciences. The objectives of this program are (1) to encourage more adventurous, more wide-ranging, and longer-term patterns of research than are current in these disciplines; (2) to link a small number of outstanding scholars and their projects to one of a limited number of residential study centers with an established record of advancing multidisciplinary scholarship; and (3) to sustain the scholarly momentum of the emerging intellectual leaders in fields of the humanities and related social sciences.

American Councils for International Education
TITLE VIII Special Initiatives Fellowship Program

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in a policy-relevant field and plan to spend at least four months conducting research in the region. This fellowship offers postdoctoral scholars financial aid for field-based, policy-relevant research in Armenia, Azerbaijan, Georgia, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Turkmenistan, and Uzbekistan. Applicants may apply to conduct research in more than one country, but must plan to spend at least four months in the region overall.

http://www.americancouncils.org/programs.php?program_id=NzA=

Cornell University Society for the Humanities/Postdoctoral Fellowships

Applicants must have one or more years of teaching experience which may include teaching as a graduate student. Fellows should be working on topics related to the annual theme. Their approach to the humanities should be broad enough to appeal to students and scholars in several humanistic disciplines. The Society invites scholars to reflect upon an annual theme. These are residential fellowships, and the fellows must be resident at Cornell during the fellowship year.

http://www.arts.cornell.edu/sochum/fellowships.html

Harvard University/Graduate School of Business Administration
Harvard-Newcomen Postdoctoral Fellowship

The school supports a postdoctoral fellowship in business history. The purpose of the award is to enable scholars who have received a Ph.D. in history, economics, or a related discipline within the past ten years to improve their professional acquaintance with business and economic history, to increase their skills as they relate to this field, and to engage in research that will benefit from the resources of the school and the Boston-area scholarly community.

http://www.hbs.edu/businesshistory/fellowships.html
American Academy in Berlin/Berlin Prize

The Academy offers residential fellowships at its Hans Arnhold Center to American scholars, writers, policymakers, and artists, permitting them to pursue their work in a manner that encourages participation in the vibrant life of Berlin and Germany. The Academy also brings leading Americans to Berlin for briefer visits to facilitate a robust exchange of views between the people of Germany and the United States. All disciplines are eligible.

http://www.americanacademy.de/home/fellows/

American Philosophical Society/Sabbatical Fellowships in the Humanities and Social Sciences

The program is open to mid-career faculty of universities and four-year colleges in the United States who have been granted a sabbatical/research leave, but for whom financial support from the home institution is available for only part of the year.

http://www.amphilsoc.org/grants/sabbatical.htm

American Philosophical Society - Franklin Research Grants (for Travel for Research Purposes)

The program is particularly designed to help meet the costs of travel to libraries and archives for research purposes; the purchase of microfilm, photocopies, or equivalent research materials; the costs associated with fieldwork; or laboratory research expenses. Franklin grants are made for noncommercial research.

http://www.amphilsoc.org/grants

Chiang Ching-Kuo Foundation for International Scholarly Exchange/American Region CCK Scholar Grants

There are three levels of awards: Distinguished Scholar Grants, Scholar Grants, and Junior Scholar Grants. Chiang Ching-kuo Scholar Grants will be given help to replace half of the salary of faculty on sabbatical, or for time off for research and writing. The foundation’s grants provide support for research on Chinese Studies in the humanities and social sciences.

http://www.cckf.org.tw/e-americaSS.htm

Stanford Humanities Center/External Faculty Fellowships

Senior fellowships are for established scholars who are more than 10 years beyond receipt of the Ph.D. Faculty fellowships are awarded across the spectrum of academic ranks (assistant, associate, and full professor) as well as to independent scholars. Especially appropriate are candidates whose research is likely to contribute to intellectual exchange among a diverse group of scholars within the disciplines of the humanities; included, but are not limited to, the following fields: history, philosophy, languages, literature, linguistics, archeology, jurisprudence, history and criticism of the arts, ethics, comparative religion, and those aspects of the social sciences employing historical or philosophical approaches. This last category includes social and cultural anthropology, sociology, political theory, international relations, and other subjects concerned with questions of value. Creative projects are not eligible. These are residential fellowships.

http://shc.stanford.edu/fellowships/digital_hum.htm

Stanford University/Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences

Residential Fellowships

Faculty at all academic ranks are eligible, as long as they have a substantial publication record. In addition to scholars working in fields of the behavioral and social sciences, scholars in the humanities and natural sciences are considered for fellowships when their work has human behavioral and social dimensions that complement and influence the work of other fellows.

http://www.casbs.org/programs/fellowships/guidelines

Michelle R. Clayman Institute for Gender Research/Faculty Research Fellowships

Senior Research Fellowships are available to associate or full professors (or the equivalent) with appointments at Stanford University or other U.S. or foreign universities. These awards are for tenured faculty only. These awards are for tenure-track faculty only. This program seeks to drive intellectual and social innovation through interdisciplinary gender studies. In the past few years, this program has focused on gender in science, engineering, and technology. In subsequent years, this program will be devoted to innovative research on select topics in the humanities, business, law, and medicine.

http://www.stanford.edu/group/gender/FellowshipProgram/ApplyIndividual.html

University of Wisconsin, Madison/Institute for Research in the Humanities

Solmsen Postdoctoral Fellowships

The Institute offers Fellowships to scholars from other universities working on literary and historical studies of the European Classical, Medieval, and Renaissance periods up to about the year 1700.

http://irh.wisc.edu/fellowships.php?menu=4

Tulane University-Murphy Institute/Center for Ethics & Public Affairs/Faculty Fellows

These fellowships are available to support outstanding faculty whose teaching and research focus on ethics, political theory, political philosophy, or questions of moral choice in architecture, business, government, economics, law, or medicine. Stipends will vary in accordance with individual circumstances, and will include a research allowance as well as a monthly housing supplement.

The German Marshall Fund

The Marshall Memorial Fellowship for young American and European leaders is the flagship GMF fellowship program, but GMF sponsors other fellowships for scholarship or exchange, including the Congress-Bundestag Forum, the Manfred Wörner Seminar, and various travel programs supporting transatlantic learning for congressional staff and European parliamentarians. GMF also sponsors journalism fellowships that support travel and reporting by European and American journalists, and may include writing an article or a book, or participating in an organized trip to explore a specific transatlantic issue. In addition, GMF awards an annual senior and junior Peter R. Weitz Prize for the best reporting on Europe by American journalists.

http://www.gmfus.org/fellowships/index.cfm

AAAS Science & Technology Policy Fellowships

AAAS offers fellowships in four programmatic areas. Click on the programs shown for a brief description. You can also click on the placement opportunities for more detail on the types of assignments available. Specific host offices and assignments vary from year to year.

- Congressional
- Diplomacy, Security & Development
- Energy, Environment & Agriculture
- Health, Education & Human Services
- Roger Revelle Global Stewardship

HTTP://FELLOWSHIPS.AAAS.ORG/02_AREAS/02_INDEX.SHTML

John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation

Often characterized as “midcareer” awards, Guggenheim Fellowships are intended for men and women who have already demonstrated exceptional capacity for productive scholarship or exceptional creative ability in the arts. Fellowships are awarded through two annual competitions: one open to citizens and permanent residents of the United States and Canada, and the other open to citizens and permanent residents of Latin America and the Caribbean. Candidates must apply to the Guggenheim Foundation in order to be considered in either of these competitions.

http://www.gf.org/about-the-foundation/the-fellowship/

National Endowment for the Humanities

Fellowships support individuals pursuing advanced research that is of value to scholars and general audiences in the humanities. Recipients usually produce articles, monographs, books, digital materials, archaeological site reports, translations, editions, and other scholarly tools.

Fellowships for Research on Italian Cultural Heritage

NEH and the Consiglio Nazionale delle Ricerche (CNR) of the government of Italy are cooperating in the support of scholarly research. NEH invites applications for humanities research focusing on Italy’s cultural heritage in relation to that of the United States. CNR will award fellowships to Italian scholars for research on America’s cultural heritage in relation to Italy. NEH anticipates awarding up to three such fellowships, as does CNR.

fellowships@neh.gov.

German Historical Institute/Fellowship in Economic and Social History

The Institute, in Washington, DC, is accepting applications for a six-month fellowship in American or European Economic and Social History, with the possibility of extending it to one year, depending on the availability of funding. The Fellow is expected to be in residence at the GHI and participate in GHI activities and events, including planning an economic/social history workshop. The Fellow will have the opportunity to make use of the resources in the Washington, DC area, including the Library of Congress and the National Archives, while pursuing his or her own research agenda.

http://www.ghi-dc.org/index.php

National Women’s Studies Association/Distinguished Fellowship

Applicants must be members of NWSA and retain their membership through their fellowship if they are selected. Applicants must be at least five years into their professional work and must plan to complete the fellowship five or more years before retirement. The fellowship recognizes the achievements of NWSA members who have been in the field for some time and offers them further opportunities for professional growth by engaging in a sabbatical or other leave of absence project at the NWSA office in Maryland. The fellowship is designed to promote research that contributes to the scholarship or public knowledge about feminism, women of color, women’s studies, NWSA, or women’s centers by providing NWSA members with opportunities to complete extended projects. Projects will be designed with one or more of the following goals in mind: 1. Research and writing; 2. Capacity-building and leadership development; 3. Curriculum and pedagogical studies for general use.

http://www.nwsa.org/projects/fellowship.php

Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study/Fellowship Program

Applicants must have a terminal degree awarded at least two years prior to their appointment as a Fellow and must have published at least two articles in journals or edited collections or one refereed journal article. The Radcliffe Institute Fellowship Program is a scholarly community where individuals pursue advanced work across a wide range of academic disciplines, professions, and creative arts. Fellowships are designed to support scholars, scientists, artists, and writers of exceptional promise and demonstrated accomplishment who wish to pursue work in academic and professional fields and in the creative arts.

http://www.radcliffe.edu/fellowship_program.aspx

Harvard University/Women’s Studies in Religion Program

Research Associate and Visiting Faculty

Applicants must have received their Ph.D. by October 1, 2009. Research Associate positions are open to candidates with doctorates in the fields of religion and to those with primary competence in other humanities, social science, and public policy fields who have serious interest in religion.
Harvard Divinity School announces full-time positions as Research Associate and Visiting Faculty in its Women’s Studies in Religion Program. The program supports significant women’s studies research projects on topics related to the history and function of gender in religious traditions, the institutionalization of gender roles in religious communities, and the interaction between religion and the personal, social, and cultural situations of women. Appropriate topics include feminist theology, biblical studies, ethics, women’s history, and interdisciplinary scholarship on women in world religions.

http://www.hds.harvard.edu/wsrp/appform/application.htm

National Humanities Center/Fellowships Program

The Center offers 40 residential fellowships for advanced study in the humanities during the academic year. Young scholars as well as senior scholars are encouraged to apply, but they must have a record of publication. In addition to scholars from all fields of the humanities, the Center accepts individuals from the natural and social sciences, the arts, the professions, and public life who are engaged in humanistic projects. Most of the fellowships are unrestricted.

http://nationalhumanitiescenter.org/fellowships/fellshipapinfo.htm

Center for Hellenic Studies/Junior Fellowships

Prerequisites for the fellowships are a Ph.D. degree and professional competence in ancient Greek studies as documented by published work. The purpose of the fellowship program is to encourage and support scholarship of the highest quality on various aspects of ancient Greek civilization. Appropriate fields of research include archaeology, art history, epigraphy, history, literary criticism, philology, philosophy, and interdisciplinary research.

http://chs.harvard.edu/chs/fellowship_application

Harvard University/Houghton Library-Visiting Short-term Fellowships

The Library is the principal rare book and manuscript library of Harvard College. Fellows will have access to collections in Widener Library as well. Preference is given to scholars whose research is closely based on materials in the Houghton collections.

http://hcl.harvard.edu/libraries/houghton/public_programs/visiting_fellows.cfm

United States Indonesia Society/Sumitro Fellows (Indonesian-United States Political and Economic Relations)

Applicants for the U.S. Sumitro Fellowship must be United States citizens or permanent residents in the United States with a specific project on Indonesia’s political economy. The USINDO invites applications for its two travel/study grants for postdoctoral scholars, Ph.D. candidates, senior academics, and otherwise professionally qualified candidates to engage in field research in Indonesia on an economic or political-economic topic. The grant is available to United States citizens and permanent residents in the United States with a specific project relating to the political economy of Indonesia.

http://www.usindo.org/education/sumitro.html
Hagley Museum and Library/Fellowships and Grants in Aid

The Henry Belin du Pont Memorial Fund and grants in aid support access to and use of Hagley’s research collections. They enable scholars to pursue advanced research and study in the library, archival, and artifact collections of the Hagley Museum and Library. Preference will be given to those whose travel costs to the library will be higher. Scholars are expected to participate in periodic seminars, as well as attend colloquia, lectures, and other public programs offered during their tenure.
http://www.hagley.org/library/center/hbdupontfellow.html

John F. Kennedy Library Foundation/Kennedy Research Grants

The Kennedy Library Foundation provides funds for the award of a number of research grants. The purpose of these grants is to help defray living, travel, and related costs incurred while doing research in the textual and non-textual holdings of the library in Boston, Massachusetts. Grant applications are evaluated on the basis of expected utilization of available holdings of the Library, the degree to which they address research needs in Kennedy period studies, and the qualifications of applicants. Preference will be given to projects not supported by large grants from other institutions.
http://www.jfklibrary.org/JFK+Library+and+Museum/

Gerald R. Ford Library/Research Travel Grants Program

The Foundation’s focus is on exhibits, community affairs and educational programs, conferences, symposia, research grants and special projects that improve citizen interest and understanding of the challenges that confront government, particularly the presidency.
http://www.fordlibrarymuseum.gov/library/foundationgrants.asp

Lyndon Baines Johnson Foundation/Grant-in-Aid of Research

A limited number of grants-in-aid will be awarded by the foundation to defray living, travel, and related expenses for scholars conducting research at the LBJ Library in Austin, Texas.
http://128.83.78.247/grants.hom/grant_online/grant_online_info.cfm

American Antiquarian Society/Fellowships for Writers and Creative and Performing Artists

The American Antiquarian Society, a national research library and learned society of American history and culture, is calling for applications for visiting fellowships for historical research by creative and performing artists, writers, film makers, journalists, and other persons whose goals are to produce imaginative, non-formulaic works dealing with pre-twentieth-century American history. Successful applicants are those whose work is for the general public rather than for academic or educational audiences. The Society’s goal in sponsoring this program is to multiply and improve the ways in which an understanding of history is communicated to the American Lilly Library of Indiana University/Everett Helm Visiting Fellowships

The program supports research and provides access to the collections of the Lilly Library for scholars residing outside the Bloomington area. Project proposals should demonstrate that the Lilly Library’s resources are integral to proposed research topics.

http://www.indiana.edu/~liblilly/fellowships.shtml

Gladys Kriible Delmas Foundation/Independent Research on Venetian History and Culture -

The foundation announces its program of postdoctoral grants for travel to and residence in Venice and the Veneto. Grants will be awarded for historical research specifically on Venice and the former Venetian empire, and for study of contemporary Venetian society and culture. Disciplines of the humanities and social sciences are eligible areas of study, including (but not limited to) archaeology, architecture, art, bibliography, economics, history, history of science, law, literature, music, political science, religion, and theater.

http://www.delmas.org/guidelines/v_ir_a.html

American Institute for Maghrib Studies/Grants Program for U.S. Citizens

Faculty in all disciplines are eligible to apply. All applicants must be U.S. citizens and members of AIMS at the time of application. The program offers grants to U.S. scholars interested in conducting research on North Africa in any Maghrib country, specifically Morocco, Tunisia, Algeria, Libya, or Mauritania. TALM Research Grants: The Tangier American Legation Museum is the AIMS Overseas Research Center in Morocco and welcomes proposals for research conducted anywhere in Morocco. 2. CEMAT Research Grants: Centre d’Etudes Maghrebines a Tunis, the AIMS Research Center in Tunis, welcomes applications for research anywhere in Tunisia. 3. CEMA Research Grants: To encourage research in Algeria, the AIMS newly established Overseas Research Center in Oran welcomes applicants for research anywhere in Algeria. 4. AIMS Multi-country Research Grants are available for scholars interested in conducting research in Libya or Mauritania or conducting multi-country research in any combination of North African countries.

http://aimsnorthafrica.org/fellowships/lstuscitz_grants.cfm?menu=2

University of Notre Dame/Hibernian Research Award

The purpose of this award is to further the scholarly study of the Irish in the United States. The award will be made to a scholar of any academic discipline who is engaged in a research project related to the study of the Irish people in the United States.

http://www.nd.edu/~cushwa/hibernian/index.shtml

Association for Asian Studies/AAS China and Inner Asia Council Small Grants

Applicants must be current AAS members, but there are no citizenship requirements. Small grants are available to scholars with special interests in China or Inner Asia. Applications are specifically encouraged in the following areas: 1. Curriculum development at the college or secondary level. 2. Conferences and seminars: organization of small conferences and seminars.
away from major centers of Chinese studies. 3. Short research trips for scholars at non-research institutions, to travel to major libraries and collections in North America and Taiwan. 4. Specialist or regional newsletters or websites disseminating important information to their respective fields. 5. Translations of scholarly books and articles. 6. Collaborative projects in which the grant will facilitate communication and limited travel by scholars working on a common project in Taiwan and North America. The following items are not eligible for funding: (1) travel to conferences, including the AAS annual meeting; (2) book subventions and publication costs; and (3) repeat applications for previously funded projects and organizations.
http://www.aasianst.org/grants/main.htm#CIAC

Association for Asian Studies, Inc./Japan Studies Grants
Research Travel Within the USA
The Association supports a variety of grant programs in Japanese studies designed to facilitate the research of individual scholars, to improve the quality of teaching about Japan on both the college and precollege levels, and to integrate the study of Japan into the major academic disciplines. Under the Research Travel within the USA category, grants are offered to persons who are engaged in scholarly research on Japan and wish to use museum, library, or other archival materials located in the USA.
http://www.aasianst.org/grants/main.htm

Association for Asian Studies/Short-Term Research Travel to Korea
Applicants in this category must be current AAS members who are U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Applicants must not have received funding in this category within the past three years. The Association, in conjunction with the Korea Foundation, offers a grant program in Korean studies designed to assist the research of individual scholars based in North America, to improve the quality of teaching about Korea on both the college and precollege levels, and to integrate the study of Korea into the major academic disciplines. Under the category of Short-Term Research Travel to Korea, grants are available to support trips to Korea for projects explicitly related to Korean studies that can be accomplished in a relatively short period.
http://www.aasianst.org/grants/main.htm

Dirksen Congressional Center/Congressional Research Awards
The competition is open to individuals with a serious interest in studying Congress. The Center invites applications for grants to fund research on congressional leadership and the U.S. Congress. The center’s first interest is to fund the study of the leadership in the Congress, both House and Senate. Topics could include external factors shaping the exercise of congressional leadership, institutional conditions affecting it, resources and techniques used by leaders, or the prospects for change or continuity in the patterns of leadership. In addition, the center invites proposals about congressional procedures, such as committee operation or mechanisms for institutional change, and Congress and the electoral process. The center also encourages proposals that link Congress and congressional leadership with the creation, implementation, and oversight of public policy.
http://www.dirksencenter.org/print_grants_CRAs.htm

International Research and Exchange Board/Short-term Travel Grants Program
Applicants must have a Ph.D. or equivalent professional or terminal degree at the time of application. The program seeks to attract, select, and support in-depth field research by U.S. scholars and experts in policy-relevant subject areas related to Eastern Europe and Eurasia, as well as to disseminate knowledge about these regions to a wide network of constituents in the U.S. and abroad. The program provides fellows with the means to conduct in-country research on contemporary political, economic, historical, and cultural developments relevant to U.S. foreign policy.

http://www.irex.org/programs/stg/

University of Minnesota/Program for Cultural Cooperation Between Spain and U.S. Universities

Applications submitted by scholars in the United States who wish to undertake or complete research projects in Spain will be considered. Projects oriented toward the dissemination of Spanish culture throughout the academic systems of the United States are reviewed for subsidy. Priority is given to those proposals of high scholarly quality that will have an important impact upon the field of Hispanicism, both regionally and nationwide.

http://www.umabroad.umn.edu/pcc/

National Council on U.S.-Arab Relations

The Council provides American professionals in academia, government, and business unparalleled educational experiences in the Arab world through the Joseph J. Malone Fellowship in Arab and Islamic Studies. The Fellowship projects its participants into the dynamics of Arab-U.S. relations and provides first-hand exposure to the region's considerable cultural, economic, political, and social diversity pursuant to increased knowledge and understanding. The Malone Program provides, through a study visit to an important Arab country, an exceptionally powerful educational experience that includes introductions to host-country government officials, businessmen, academics, and scholars, and the opportunity to discuss Arab world issues and Arab-U.S. relations with American and Arab scholars, policymakers, and other specialists. Study visits under the Malone Program are normally one-to-two weeks in duration.

http://www.ncusar.org/programs/malone.html